

Section 3: Watershed Protection

Section three includes activities that would be most applicable to Experiential Science 30.

Related Course Objectives:

Unit 4: Resources Management

1. Students will gain an understanding of water management by:
 - a. Explaining the role of government agencies in the monitoring and protection of waterways.
3. Students will understand the foundations of a sustainable future, economics and ethics by:
 - a. Investigating the renewable resources that can be managed by humans including:
 - i. Describing and illustrating how the freshwater resources of the region (local watershed) are used and managed by people.
 - ii. Developing a management program that would ensure that freshwater is available for future generations.